ABOUT FORTY COMMITTEE REPORTS ARE MADE ON PROPOSED MEASURES.

PRESENT STATUTES AMPLIFIED

Such Reason Is Given in Numerous Instances for Death of Bills When They Are Referred.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 27.—In the house today about forty committee reports were made, half of them carrying unfavorable recommendations upon proposed bills, in numerous the reason given that the present Oklahoma statutes are sufficient.

Among the measures which went to their death in this way were three dealing with adultery, bills regulating divorces, creating a uniform system of weights and measures and creating the office of county carinder. The committee on public Health and Sanitation also recommended that the mesal bean and peyote bill by Mr. Rose of Durant, in the consideration of which the Oklahoma Indian tribes appeared before it, be not passed.

Favorable reports were made upon the bills by Mr. Ballard prohibiting exhibitions where the performer eats or pretends to eat snakes, reptiles, etc., and preventing, under certain conditions, performances of hypnotism, etc. Favorable reports were also made upon the bill permitting the incorporation of banks with $5,000 capital in towns of less than 500 people, and the bill further prohibiting the sale of cigarettes.

The bill by Mr. McCalla of Love and Mr. Durant of Bryan, creating the office of state engineer at a salary of $3,000 to be appointed by the governor, when presented for final passage in the house was killed by a vote of 12 to 87. It was stated that the commission would refuse to accept the office so filled under the constitutional provision, which authorizes it to employ experts as they are needed. The Appropriation Committee announced that the commission had not asked for the engineer, but had requested an appropriation of $100,000 to accomplish what the engineer could do.

The House adopted a report from the committee on privileges and elections, which seated J. P. Evans (rep.) from the florial district of Grant and Alfalfa counties over R. L. Omalley (dem.) The report submitted that no evidence had been offered to sustain the latter's charges. Mr. Ashby offered a resolution for a recount of the votes.

In the senate the Stewart bill regulating telephone and telegraph companies was presented for final passage and further amended requiring telegraph companies to maintain uptown offices within cities of the first class. There must be free delivery of messages in towns, but a fee may be charged outside of town. Messenger fees may be charged by telephone companies, beginning at 10c for the first 500 feet from the office followed by a gradually increasing scale. The "Jim Crow" provision was amended to require separate waiting rooms and phone booths in all cities of the first class, but upon showing the corporation may exempt any of the towns.

Each member of the legislature was in receipt of a protest from the Stillwater Grand Army post against the passage of what the protest termed "The rebel pension bill." The measure in question is pending in the house and proposes for each Union and Confederate veteran not drawing a pension from some other source $10 per month. Because the wording of the documents several of the senate members made speeches in disapproval of its circulation, but as a matter of record the protest was given consideration in neither house.

House Appropriation Committee Expects to Report a Bill Soon.

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 27.—The house appropriation committee expects to report a bill for consideration the last of the week.

It is said the recommendations for one year, or until the next legislature, will amount to $2,000,000.

KNOWS HE CAN GET DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION AND MEANS TO HAVE IT.

BELIEVES HE CAN WIN

Therefore Esteems Prize Within His Reach Too Valuable to Relinquish.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Mr. Bryan knows that he can get the democratic nomination for the presidency. He is filled with the belief that, nominated, he will be elected. Therefore, he esteems the prize within his grasp as too valuable to be relinquished, either at the solicitation of his enemies or of those who, though his friends, doubt the expediency of again making him the party's standard bearer.

In these three sentences is epitomized the situation that has been made clear and unmistakable by the visit of Bryan to Washington. What will happen at Denver is now written in the chronology of things decreed.

"I have not come to Washington to find out who is for me or who is against me," Mr. Bryan said to correspondents this morning.

"I do not expect to inquire what the sentiment is among democrats in congress. No man has advised me that I ought not to run; therefore, I have not discussed the advisability of withdrawing with any man."

Take the Opposite Task.

It seems, on the contrary, that some of those who a few days ago were declaring their purpose to advise Mr. Bryan to retire from the race have urged him to stand fast, and have represented to him that all those who would have him retire are the enemies of the democratic party and of himself.

Two or three New York newspapers declared this morning under bold headlines that ex-Senator Jones, getting courage from the recollection of their quondam intimacy, had yesterday advised Mr. Bryan to nominate some other man than himself at Denver and that Mr. Bryan had rejected his counsel with some asperity. Mr. Bryan's statement to the correspondent is a denial of that story.

The fact is that Senator Jones did call on Mr. Bryan yesterday with that sentiment in his heart and the words wherewith to voice it marshaled in his throat, but that Mr. Bryan, having been advised of his mission, expressed a few opinions which paralyzed the tongue of the former Senator from Arkansas. So far as is known of a certainty there is only one other democrat in congress who has had the temerity even to broach the subject to Mr. Bryan. The one who came this near emulating Ajax is representative Lassiter of Virginia.

"I intimated to him that we ought to nominate a fresh candidate," Mr. Lassiter reported. "Mr. Bryan was not visibly impressed," Mr. Lassiter added.

Has Been Spared Withdrawal Talk.

So Mr. Bryan, it seems, has heard none of the arguments which, a few days ago, were so resonant in democratic cloak rooms in favor of his retirement. The gentlemen who declared so valiantly that when Mr. Bryan came to town they would advise him that he ought to forego the nomination so certainly his seem to have concluded, now that Mr. Bryan is within hearing. Though declaring always that they were his friends, engaged only in an enterprise for the benefit of the party they have acted like conspirators who, when the crucial moment comes, are mindful only of the consequences of failure.

Take'em Off, Take'em On.

Mr. Sam Torbett was in receipt of an important telegram today from our congressman, the Hon. Chas. D. Carter, in which he urged that citizens, especially the Indians and business interests, become active through appeals by wire and letters to committee on Indian Affairs in promoting the removal of restriction legislation, for which we are in such crying need. In response to the telegram, a meeting of the 25000 Club will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

DECIDES IN FAVOR OF STATE.

District Court at McAlester Hears Argument as to Action Against Alleged Coal Trust.

McAlester, Ok., Jan. 27.—The case of the state against the McAlester Fuel Company and thirty-eight coal companies of this district, composing what is called the alleged trust, was fought out in the district court today on defendants' demurrer to the state's petition and decided in favor of the state.

The court held that the petition showed cause of action on its face and that it also showed jurisdiction of the defendants, these being the two points raised by the defense. Twelve of the companies defendant immediately filed their answers, and ten days were granted the other defendants in which to answer. The case will now be fought out on its merits in the state court, the defendants having announced when their petition for removal to the federal court was denied by Judge Cole that they would take no further steps in that direction. It can not come up until the March term of court and there is little probability of it coming up then.

THIRD HALF MILLION.

School Land Board Requests State Treasurer to Draw Same.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 27.—The state school land board today requested the state treasurer to draw on the National government for the third $500,000 of the $5,000,000 school fund. The board has already placed $1,000,000 of the fund in circulation in Oklahoma through the various banks.

If the school land leases wish to retain the preference right to their holdings when the public lands are sold by authority of the legislature it is rather certain that they will be required to first place themselves in good standing with the school land department. It was announced today that a section of the bill would undoubtedly make this requirement, it will mean that many of the lessees which have contracts with the state will be forced to comply with their terms and settle their indebtedness before a preference right to the land could be established.

WOULD REVISE AND CODIFY.

Branson of Muskogee Presents Bill Pertaining to Laws.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 27.—To obviate the difficulty of knowing what the law of Oklahoma is and where to find it, it is the purpose of a bill to be offered by Mr. Branson of Muskogee, in which is provided for the appointment of a commission to be composed of three lawyers, who shall revise and codify the laws, civil and criminal which have not already been repealed or amended.

The commission is to embody the result of its work in two bills—civil and criminal laws—an report to the governor in December of this year. The two bills will be proposed to the legislature, which meets in January, 1909.

The commission are to be paid at the rate of $3,000 per year and appointed by the governor with confirmation of the senate.

SCHOOL LANDS TRANSFERRED.

Work of Checking Over Territorial Department Is Completed—Yield Is Over $2,000,000.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 27.—The work of checking over the Territorial School Land Department to the State Land Commissioners was not fully completed until Saturday night, when L. D. Marr, secretary to the Public Land Commissioners of the State, signed the final receipts, receipting to Fred L. Wenner, secretary of the Territorial Board for Leasing School Lands, for all of the property, notes and funds, although the formal transfer of the department from Secretary Wenner to Secretary Marr was really made Jan. 1. The receipts received by Secretary Wenner make a bound volume of about 800 legal size typewritten pages, embracing in addition almost a car load of the books, records, files and furniture, and the following cash on hand deposited in banks to the various funds, as follows: Common school fund, $213,331.33; college fund, $31,719.18; public building fund $31,433.59; common school indemnity fund $33,160.95; Greer County, Sec. 13 fund, $5,497.22; Greer County Sec. 33 fund, $5,331.14; special university fund, $2,663.81; special normal school fund, $4,019.30; special A. & M. College $2,800.94; special University preparatory fund, $2,631.85; special C. A. and

N. U. fund, $1,036.67; cash items of remittances in process of collection or being credited upon the books $38,594.82; total, $372,220.70. Bonds, warrants and other securities in excess of the amount of funds and deposited with the secretary as security were also transferred.

REMOVAL OF RESTRICTIONS.

Bill Pertaining to Lands of Members of Five Tribes Soon to Be Presented.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The bill which will reflect the views of all members of the delegation as to what ought to be done toward removing the restrictions on the lands of members of the Five Tribes in Oklahoma will be introduced one day this week, according to present indications.

It will probably be offered by Senator Clapp of Minnesota, chairman of the Committee on Indian Affairs. The outlines of its provisions have been agreed to, not only by the members of the Oklahoma delegation, but by Secretary Garfield. They have heretofore been stated in The News. The restrictions on all lands of less than half Indian blood are removed absolutely; on the surplus lands only of those of more than half Indian blood but not full-blood Indians, the restrictions are removed, while as to the full-blood none of the restrictions are removed, though in individual cases they may be by the secretary of the interior.

Senator Owen said today that while he is not entirely satisfied with the bill he will support it because it is the best that can be got at this time. "It is a long step in the right direction," Senator Owen said, "and will afford great relief to our state." Senator Owen thinks the bill is certain to pass.

House to Vote on Prohi Bill.

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 27.—"The house will vote on the prohibition bill probably tomorrow, positively not later than Wednesday," said George Whitehurst, chairman of the democratic caucus tonight. He claims to have over 80 votes promised. Seventy-three is necessary to adopt the measure. A caucus was held late this afternoon. The administration forces tonight are more confident than at any time since the amended senate bill was brought up. The engrossed copy of the bill has been prepared.

A Great City Is a Great Solitude.

But little do men perceive what solitude is, and how far it extendeth; for a crowd is not company, and faces are but a gallery of pictures, and talk out a tinkling cymbal, where there is no love. The Latin adage meeteth it a little: magna civitas, magna solitudo; because in a great town friends are scattered, so that there is not that fellowship for the most part which is in less neighborhoods; but we may go further and affirm most truly that it is a mere and miserable solitude to want true friends, without which the world is but a wilderness; and even in this sense also of solitude, whosoever in the frame of his nature and affections is unfit for friendship, he taketh it of the beast and not from humanity.—From Bacon's "Essay on Seeing Wise."

A Hopping Match.

A match, 20 hops for ten guineas, took place at Loughborough, Leicestershire, between James Shipley, of Nottingham, and a person named Moore, of Leicester. It was very closely contested, so much so that bets of four to one were laid and taken on each side. The match, however, was won by Shipley. On measuring the distance it appeared that Shipley had hopped 75 yards nine or ten inches and Moore something more than 75 yards. The latter was to have run against Shipley on the same day, 140 yards for 40 guineas, but declined, and in consequence forfeited his deposit.—From an English Sporting Magazine of 1807.

Stanley's Cat.

It is a good story of Henry M. Stanley, after his return from Africa, when writing his "Dark Continent." He used to spread his reference maps on the floor of his room, and one day, after searching for a map which he much needed, he spoke to his assistant, who found it near the fireside, with Stanley's cat on it asleep. He started to turn the cat off, when Stanley said: "Never mind—don't disturb the cat. I'll get along without the map until the cat wakes up." The cat slumbered on, and not until she rose did the famous explorer reach for his map.

LAST DAYS OF GREAT POETS

Bliss Perry Writes of the Passing of Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

On the day when he last entered the Atlantic office, in January, Mr. Aldrich seemed, for the first time to have grown old. One of his friends spoke of it as he went out. Up till that morning, the weight of 70 years had scarcely seemed to touch the erect, jaunty figure. The lines that time had written around his clear blue eyes and firm mouth conveyed no hint of senility. His hair was scarcely gray. His voice, slightly husky in its graver, sweeter tones, retained a delicious youthful crispness as it curled and broke, wave-like, into flashing raillery. He had just completed his poem for the Longfellow centenary, his first verse after some years of silence, and when it was praised to his face—for who could help praising it?—he blushed with pleasure like a boy. Yet he had passed three-score and ten, and the shadow, invisible as yet and quite unheralded, was drawing very near.—Bliss Perry, in Atlantic.

TRICK NOT ALWAYS AMUSING.

Sometimes Hubby Is Entirely Unable to See the Joke.

This is a simple trick, and every married woman can perform it; but it requires the assistance of a confederate with a big bag of shining tinware on his back. First get a husband with an extra pair of slightly worn trousers in his wardrobe; then have the confederate—the man with the bag of tinware—come to the back door and knock gently. The wife must then peep out in a frightened way, and immediately the man with the tinware tells a tale that resembles a mining stock advertisement. The wife stops to think a few minutes. Suddenly she must rush to the wardrobe, but only after the man rattles the brilliant tinware to arouse her. The wife must walk back to the man again with the trousers. The man must take them and hand the wife a few tin pans. All the while the man with the tinware must smile happily. At last the transaction is completed, and presto change! the husband's trousers have disappeared and in their place appears some tinware on the kitchen table. This trick is very novel, and will amuse the husband greatly. The trick should not be performed while the husband is in bed, unless he has an extra pair of trousers.—F. P. Pitzer, in Judge.

"I GUESS" AND "CALCULATE."

Expressions Are Good English and Not at All American.

The accepted manner of defining Americans, either male or female, in the London comic papers or in second-rate English novels is to laud their speech plentifully with "calculate" and "guess," and with "well" at the opening of each sentence. This mode of marking, or any other, is in itself totally unimportant, but linguistically it is not without interest, for while it is purely conventional as now used and has no relation to any American habits of the present day, whether good or bad, it is pleasant to note that the hard-worked insular humorist need not have gone so far afield to find the words necessary for the identification of Americans. They really had but to turn to the "New Letters" of Thomas Carlyle (volume 1, page 178) and there read the following sentence: "He has brought you a Fox's book of Martyrs, which I calculate will go in the parcel to day; you will get right good reading out of it, I guess."—Scribner.

Worshippers Carry Fire.

While seeing many people leaving the cathedral I entered to look around the interior of the fine chancel. Inside I saw numbers of men carrying huge wicker baskets filled with triangular earthenware dishes in each of which still smoldered some glowing embers in a bed of white ash. These they carried into the cloisters and emptied solemnly into great metal bins. On reentering the building the secret stood revealed. Owing to the extreme cold each member of the congregation hires for a doppelgier, or the sum of 2d., an earthen dish with a block of glowing peat under the little wooden perforated footstools with which each chair is provided.—Tit Bits

Penalty of Vanity.

Two tadpoles lived in a meadow pool. One tadpole was exceedingly vain and kicked around until he developed a pair of pale green legs and arose to the dignity of a frog. The other tadpole was sluggish. "Hurry up!" said the new frog. "Why, you are the slowest thing in all the meadows. Without legs you will never be noticed." "And that is just why I am not raising them," replied the slow tadpole. "It doesn't always pay to be noticed." And now the slow tadpole still swims among the rushes while his vain brother has long since been served up on crisp toast.

He Was an Exception.

The late Bishop James Newbury Fitzgerald, in an address in St. Louis, once declared that sympathy, far more than eloquence or learning, made for success in the ministry. "Too many of us," he said, "say the worst, the most inappropriate things. Thus a young Baptist friend of mine, condoling with a housebreaker in a fall, droned: 'Ah, my friend, let us remember that we are here to-day and gone to-morrow.' You may be; I ain't," the housebreaker answered shortly."

Fresh Food in the Country.

"The late Senator Pugh," said a Mobile man, "thought the charms of the country overrated. He preferred the city to the country. He used to tell how, one June day, he met a friend who had taken a house for the summer months outside New York somewhere. 'I suppose you revel in fresh eggs and vegetables out there, eh?' said Senator Pugh. 'Yes,' said the New York man. 'Why, we can get all those things at Scraggs Four Corners almost as cheap as we did in town.'"

Care of a Canary.

When moving a canary from a small to a larger cage, you should take the trouble to satisfy yourself that the bird is not frightened in its new habitation, for it sometimes happens that it is absolutely afraid to fly down from its comparatively lofty perch, and thus gets starved to death because it cannot reach its food. If you see your bird in this dilemma, try and coax it down; and if it will not come, take hold of it gently and deposit it on the floor of the cage.

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. BROKE IN JAIL.

Negro Arrested Himself and Put "Prisoner" in Calaboose.

It has often occurred in the past that people have broken out of prison, but, first time in the world's history it is thought, it has occurred that a man "broke in jail."

This morning a white man who was imprisoned for drunkenness awoke to find himself within the walls of the "Hotel de Couch." This did not please him of course, but before he had his eyes well open from a night's slumber in this ever unpopular resort, he discovered a companion. It was George Washington, colored. The white guest did not object to bunking with George Washington, or even with a worthy name sake of the Father of our Country, but he had a just and great roar coming for being associated in any such manner with George Washington, colored.

When Marshal Couch reached his hotel this morning and opened the door of the white "waiting room" he had an argument on his hands. Dick was surprised, for he had not put the negro in prison. "Explain this" demanded the landlord of Hotel de Couch. Half scared to death, the young son of Ham, just 17, muttered, "I wuz gwine ter tell you boss, I wuz broke, cold and sleepy, and I jest thought I could get a good nap in here without paying fur it. I aint done nuthin'."

Dick and the enraged white prisoner had a big laugh. The hobo coon was taken before the mayor and was given twenty minutes to get out of Ada.

U. G. WINN HONORED.

One of the First Four Men in the United States Elected as Delegate to National Republican Convention.

The Hon. U. G. Winn of this city, recognized as the strongest factor within the republican party in this district and an Oklahoma republican leader, was elected one of the alternate delegates to the National Republican Convention to be held at Chicago, by the 4th Congressional District Delegate Convention which lately met at Coalgate.

This selection of Judge Winn affords some distinction inasmuch the entire number of delegates and alternates the 4th District Convention was entitled to elect to the National Convention was four, and too, the interest of the leaders of the republican party of the nation was centered on this convention, it being the first republican convention called to select delegates in the United States.

The 4th District delegates were instructed to cast their vote in the big convention for Mr. Taft.

H. R. Snyder, Investor.

The News man has been benefited through the acquaintance of Mr. H. R. Snyder of Petersburg, Indiana, who has been in Ada several days looking after the interests of previous investments and incidentally taking on some more. Mr. Snyder is a capitalist of wide travel and vast investment experience. Commenting on Ada's splendid prospects he stated that in his estimation nothing at present could be accomplished which would so materially assist in promoting Ada's welfare than the paving of the streets of the business portion of the city and the construction of substantial sidewalks throughout the town. Mr. Snyder, talking of the street paving proposition, remarked in substance, "I have had considerable experience in street paving and in a country of fine deposit, such as yours. There, the paving construction is not of brick, but of better and more durable material. Than the huge quantities of lime stone surrounding your city there is no better paving material. With your rock and gravel and cheap cement, your streets could be paved at an expense of probably less than $50 to the 25 foot front."

Mr. Snyder was requested to hand the News, for publication at an early date, an article of suggestions on street paving for Ada.

THE "SECRET OF SECRETS"

In Store Advertising.
One of the wisest of men wrote:
"Suffer any person, to tell us his story, morning and evening, for but a twelve-month, AND HE WILL BECOME OUR MASTER!"
In the above sentence we have, in a nutshell, the INNERMOST SECRET OF SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISING—frequency, and persistency, and unvarying continuity in the telling of the story of store or enterprise. There are many other things to be said of successful advertising, but in the above quotation is found the real philosophy, the real secret—
THE HEART OF THE WHOLE MATTER!

Good Reading.

Have you read the new books at the public library at Ramsey's? If not, you can read the following and four hundred others by purchasing a ticket; in so doing, you are not only benefited, but help to leave an inheritance to the city of Ada:

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

CUPID'S FAVORITE AUTOMOBILE

ure beside her and, somehow, she felt absolute confidence in the steady nerve of this "strong master of the wheel."

They had traveled about ten miles, and their speed was approaching 50 miles an hour when, suddenly, on a nearby cross street, another car was seen to be wildly approaching at a furious rate of speed. A fatal crash seemed inevitable. She clutched at Gibbons' shoulders and hid her face behind him. The suspense was terrible; but young Gibbons, with rare presence of mind, judged the distance and speed accurately, opened the throttle to its widest point, and his car shot ahead, allowing the other car to narrowly miss his rear fender.

Ended in Car's First Marriage.

Then Gibbons gradually brought his machine to a stop, and for the first time during the ride glanced at Miss Taylor. Her face was pallid, but it was filled with silent gratitude. Before they had gone half the distance back to the factory Miss Taylor had learned that Gibbons was her brother's chum at college. After the next ride, which was taken a few days later, Gibbons was compelled to undergo the ordeal of presenting himself to Taylor as his son-in-law.

That was the beginning of the remarkable record of No. 4665. It was the fate of chassis No. 980 to be shipped to Chicago and there sold by the agent to D. O. Scott, a young mining engineer and owner, who had come up from his Mexican mines to spend the summer and incidentally some of his gold in the states. Not many years before Mr. Scott had been a world's champion bicycle rider, and he now found great pleasure in this high-speed automobile.

After he had used his car about a month, he received a message from his mines stating that he was badly needed there on account of recent troubles with the Indians. Scott knew that he must leave immediately. But during his short month in Chicago he had met his affinity. Car No. 4665 took the twain out Hammond way one night, and they came back bride and groom.

Love Boat Begins Knot-Tying Career.

After Scott sold 4665 it became known as the Gasoline Elopers and was held in reserve in Motorville for men in gray and girls in soft browns.

Although it was one of the elopements which failed to end happily, No. 4665 carried George Van Sands and Grace Cochran on their wild ride to the knot-tying place.

Only a few days after the dash of 4665 to Milwaukee with Van Sands

home of his favorite preacher. The owner of 4665 was cast in the role of best man. A run was made to the clergyman's house, but to the chagrin of the couple the minister was not at home and would not be back for half an hour. A spin over the boulevards was taken, and when the wedding party rumbled up to the curb in front of the clergyman's house it was found they would not have time to go in. So the clergyman was called out to the machine and the knot was tied from the curb.

Makes Even Prize Fighter Woozy.

During the summers of 1906 and 1907 the "love boat" figured in dozens of elopements. Joseph Howard, the composer of tuneful ditties which have made several musical comedies successful, was the principal in one of these. Immediately after Mr. Howard was granted a divorce from his former wife, Ida Emerson Howard, he rushed from the courtroom to an automobile which stood waiting for him, in which was Miss Mabel Barrison of "Capt. Careless" fame. A breathless trip to Hammond, Ind., was made in No. 4665.

After this elopement there successively followed a score of weddings and elopements in which No. 4665 figured, including the elopement of a prominent North side manufacturer to Hammond; a well known young woman of Woodlawn avenue, and also a goodly number of weddings without the sensation of an elopement. Among these more quiet weddings in which the "love boat" was used is that of Herman Landfield, better known as Kid Herman in pugilistic circles. On this occasion No. 4665 took Mr. and Mrs. Landfield on their honeymoon to New Orleans.

PROPER PLACE FOR HUBBY.

One Woman Had Right Idea of Dealing with Inebriated Spouse.

"There is as much difference in women," said an old city hall hackman, "as there is in horses—which is saying a great deal."

"The other night I loaded into my cab two men who were altogether the worse for the hot stimulants which they had been pouring down their throats. I had orders from their friends to see them safely delivered at home, and not to leave them until they had been receipted for by somebody who might be supposed to be in legal possession."

"I delivered the first one safely in the parlor of his home, and as I shut the door and walked away I heard the unhappy lamentations and up-

Something New in Line of Amusement

The invitations were ornamented with a flock of wild geese flying madly over the page and the words were: "Come to Beverly Farm on Tuesday at half after eight."

Every one receiving this unique message was filled with curiosity as to what the proceedings would be. When all had arrived the hostess had a slip of paper for each one on which was written the first direction; of course each one was different.

One said: "Go look under the umbrella jar." There was a slip under it that said: "To walk through the hall into the music room and look at the pedals of the piano." To them was attached the message: "In the Indian basket at the top of the stairs you will find your reward." There was a souvenir or favor for each one. In fact, there were duplicates, and when a man and a woman found the same they were partners for supper. It may easily be seen how jolly this affair may be if the hostess uses plenty of ingenuity in the planning of the "chases." The guests entering into it will have loads of fun, as they encounter each other following out the different instructions. This scheme is practical in pairing couples for cards or in any game where partners are necessary.

Plan for a Rainbow Tea.

This was a common every-day church supper, glorified by the seven colors of the rainbow, and it certainly was a most attractive affair. An unusually large crowd came to this "Rainbow Tea," drawn by the alluring advertisements, for every one wondered "what it was to be."

There were seven tables, beginning with red, then orange, yellow, indigo, green, violet and blue. The waiters for each table were dressed accordingly, and there was an arrangement of draperies bringing in all the colors, transforming the room into a bower of beauty. One cannot realize how effective the combination is until tried. Below is the menu for each table:

RED TABLE.
Ham.	Tongue.
Sausage.	Dried Beef.
Cranberries.	Cherries.
Bread and Butter.	Red Jellies.
GREEN TABLE.
Olive.	Lettuce.
Stuffed Green Peppers.	Water Cress.
ORANGE TABLE.

Sliced Oranges.	Plain Oranges.
Orange Sherbet.	Orange Gelatine.
Orange Favors on a Tree.	Cheese.
YELLOW TABLE.

Sponge Cake.	Lady Fingers.
VIOLET TABLE.

Beverages for sale at all the tables.
INDIGO AND BLUE TABLE.
This table was decorated with blue candles and a young woman handed out blue tickets which entitled the holder to a dish of ice cream or a slice of mince pie, both of which were served on blue plates. If a guest wished to take the entire course the charge was 50 cents. One article could be purchased for 7 cents.
MADAME MERRI.

Finishing Tablecloths.

The French hem is the most attractive way to finish tablecloths and napkins.

It is made by turning an ordinary hem—that is, turn once and over again. Now turn it back upon itself so that the right side of the hem will lie upon the right side of the material and top sew the edge.

Hair Is Now Dressed in Many New Ways

The hair is now being dressed with less width from side to side and more height in the center, a hint particularly valuable to the moon-faced girl, who ought not to increase the width of her face by puffing her hair out unduly above her ears.

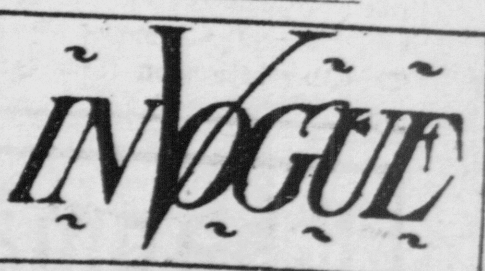

Fascinatingly pretty as the curl is, it is by no means surprising that it should maintain its supremacy, though it need not be the sole motif of a chevelure design. Puffs and the plait are mingled in elegant confusion, and the wave that is required is the heavy Marcel ondule.

Girls of about 16 who have not yet reached the age of putting their hair up are wearing it parted and caught together in festoons or curtains upon the brow, to use an old-fashioned expression in connection with this form of dressing.

In some cases the hair is plaited at the back and looped in the nape of the neck beneath a huge ribbon bow, black for the blonde girl, and chocolate for the nut-brown maid. Otherwise the front hair is drawn to the back beneath the restraining influence of a comb and the tresses are allowed to flow carelessly over the shoulders.

Individual fancy is able to run riot this winter over any number of possible decorations for the hair. There are beautiful combs being sold at all prices, from those of dark or blonde tortoiseshell powdered, latticed and festooned with diamonds to the Spanish ones that are so fashionable damascened in gold upon Toledo steel. At night wreaths of skeleton leaves in gold, silver or steel make a very pretty decoration, and the large single gold or silver rose with foliage to match is justifiably patronized on account of its beauty and its becoming attributes to women of all ages.

The softly waving plume of cut ostrich and marabout is as popular as ever for evening wear, and just lately there has arisen a tendency for wearing long brush or comet aigrettes pointing downwards from behind the ear to the crown of the shoulder, instead of upwards, as the former manner was.

Raspberry and old rose shades are apparently evening favorites. Striped materials are being more extensively worn this season.

Stocks of chiffon, laid in loose folds, to be worn with lace applique blouses, are extremely smart.

Dark, rich green is a favorite color this season, and it is always handsome.

Automobile coats in unplucked sealskin are among the latest beautiful things for the fair motorist.

Bridge whist sets bound in morocco make very attractive Christmas gifts. A four-in-hand shield for linen collars comes in colored silk, bordered with white silk and trimmed with French knots.

A woman just back from London says that hats were never more top-heavy and never more expensive than just now.

From Paris are gray linen collars for half-mourning wear. They are hand-embroidered in French knots and other effects in black.

Chicago.—Are you going to elope? If you are, just hire the Gasoline Elopers, and you will live happily ever afterward. The Gasoline Elopers—it is called the "Love Boat"—by some—is the name given by the people of Motorville to the 45-horsepower touring car that plies between Single Blessedness and the land of Better or Worse. Motorville is out Michigan avenue way, where the homes of early Chicago have been transformed into garages and shops and where the streets and alleys have been polished with oil and rubbed down by a million wheels. Out there the honk-honk is the reveille and the taps.

The Gasoline Elopers has carried more happy twains into the land of Better or Worse than any other automobile in Motorville, where all the automobiles come from. It has traveled with the wind over boulevards and country roads, across the state line to the knot-tying place in Indiana in the dead of night like a specter set on wheels; it has worn a path to justice shops at rural crossroads, to little white churches that speck the countryside; it has borne bachelors to church and brought them back benedicted, and it has fled away with girls in brown and men in gray and brought them back to the parental roof in time for the ice cream and cake and congratulations. It has put a five dollars an hour price on romance, and it has shattered every record set down on the books of Cupid for making two hearts beat as one.

Coppers Know When Dan Is Out.

Dan never gets pinched. Every copper from Motorville north to Waukegan, south to the Indiana state line, and west to the nearest crossroads justice shop knows that when No. 4665 rips off the miles like a wireless message it's "on the job," and not a hand is raised. Dan doesn't mind speeding—he's married himself and he says it's all for the cause. He says he keeps his engine in pace with the heart beats inside the limousine, and that means broken speed laws every mile from post to wire.

Most of the eloping couples carried to their goal in No. 4665 live happily ever afterwards, but of course there are some exceptions to the rule. Even before 4665 left the factory down in Buffalo where it was built it fastened its first two scalps to its belt. It was a bright spring day with all the settings found in the love songs of the poets when Genevieve Taylor of Buffalo, together with her father, visited the factory where the Gasoline Elopers was being put together. Papa Taylor wanted to buy a car in which he was to make a tour of the west with Genevieve and her mother.

The finishing touches were being put on No. 4665 when Mr. Taylor and his daughter reached the testing room of the great factory—the room to which cars are taken to be tested. While they were still in the room No. 4665 was brought in. It was ready for the test before being painted and shipped to Chicago.

Love Came on During High Speed.

Charles Gibbons, the daredevil tester of the factory, was assigned to make the first run on the chassis. Miss Taylor watched the preparations with great interest. Finally she asked why she couldn't make the ride with Gibbons. Her father, after some hesitation and many assurances both from the manager of the factory and the daring Gibbons, gave his consent.

The pair were soon speeding along the boulevards. The silent Gibbons sat rigidly grasping the steering wheel; his eyes were riveted straight ahead, and he seemed to notice nothing to right or left of him. He steadily increased the speed, until his responsive machine seemed fairly to fly over the paved roads. Miss Taylor knew that she had never before ridden at such a furious rate of speed. Her strained eyes instinctively turned from the road ahead to the stolid fig-and his promised bride a large party of Evanstonians went on a camping expedition to Mokena, Ill. Among these were Miss Vera Grace Moore and Mr. Robert P. Sheppard. This engaged couple were missed from camp one whole evening and a search was made for them. They had slipped away from camp and had walked to the railroad station, where, while waiting for a train to Chicago, Mr. Sheppard telephoned a Chicago garage to meet the train at the La Salle street station. The "love boat" was sent, and again carefully served to convey an eloping couple to the parsonage. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard returned to the station, and the "love boat" had cut another notch in its rapidly growing record.

Married in Gasoline Elopers.

Various Chicago couples have been married on railroad trains, on boats, on housetops, on roller skates and on ice skates, in the water, and as many more unusual places; but not long ago Dr. G. R. Churchill, a Chicago dentist, was married to Miss Lottie Andrews while riding in an automobile, and has attained the distinction of having been the originator of this latest unique place of marriage.

It happened a year or so ago on a crisp day in October. Dr. Churchill had planned a quiet marriage at the braillings of his wife, commingled with the incoherent and somewhat vague explanations of the husband, to the effect that he had been only around the corner to see a man.

"In the other case when the door was opened and I escorted the gentleman into the library, by holding him tightly by the shoulder, his wife, who sat reading by the center table, simply looked up and calmly said, 'Please deposit him in the bathtub where he can drip.'"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Height of Ludicrousness.

"Yes," said Mrs. Oatcake, "John was such a queer boy. He had a mania for putting silly names together." "Indeed," replied the visitor. "And is he still working on the farm?" "Well, I should say not! John was called to New York at a big salary to select the names of them that big shows that come out of that town."—Chicago Daily News.

Alumnae Widely Scattered.

According to recent statistics, there are now in Wellesley college just 100 teachers, 15 professors, 28 associate professors, 50 instructors and seven assistants. There are a number of Wellesley graduates in Manila, who delight to meet one another, one of them being Miss Phoebe Ellison, who teaches domestic science in the American school.

Suspect Happy-Looking Man.

Every man who wears the kind of a smile that won't come off, new shoes, and a gray suit, who wants to rent an automobile in Motorville is at once regarded with suspicion and sent over to the garage of the Gasoline Elopers. If the man with the everlasting smile, the new shoes, and the gray suit is accompanied by a feminine figure done in soft browns, the Gasoline Elopers

DO NOT FAVOR HALF BRYAN WILL STICK

ABOUT FORTY COMMITTEE REPORTS ARE MADE ON PROPOSED MEASURES.

PRESENT STATUTES AMPLIFIED BELIEVES HE CAN WIN

Such Reason Is Given in Numerous Instances for Death of Bills When They Are Referred.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 27.—In the house today about forty committee reports were made, half of them carrying unfavorable recommendations upon proposed bills. In numerous the reason given that the present Oklahoma statutes are sufficient.

Among the measures which went to their death in this way were three dealing with adultery bills regulating divorces creating a uniform system of weights and measures and creating the office of county engineer. The committee on public Health and Sanitation also recommended that the mesquite bean and peyote bill by Mr. Rose of Durant in the consideration of which the Oklahoma Indian tribes appeared before it be not passed.

Favorable reports were made upon the bills by Mr. Ballard prohibiting exhibitions where the performers or pretends to use snakes, reptiles or and preventing under certain conditions performances of hypnotism etc. Favorable reports were also made upon the bill permitting the incorporation of banks with $7,000 capital in towns of less than 500 people and the bill further prohibiting the sale of cigarettes.

The bill by Mr. McCalla of Love and Mr. Durant of Bryan creating the office of state engineer at a salary of $3,000 to be appointed by the governor when presented for final passage in the house was killed by a vote of 12 to 87. It was stated that the commission would refuse to accept the office so filled under the constitutional provision which authorizes it to employ experts as they are needed. The Appropriation Committee announced that the commission had not asked for the engineer, but had requested an appropriation of $100,000 to accomplish what the engineer could do.

The House adopted a report from the committee on privileges and elections which seated J. P. Evans (rep.) from the Senatorial district of Grant and Alfalfa counties over R. L. Omalley (dem.) The report submitted that no evidence had been offered to sustain the latter's charges. Mr. Ashby offered a resolution for a recount of the votes.

In the senate the Stewart bill regulating telephone and telegraph companies was presented for final passage and further amended requiring telegraph companies to maintain up-town offices within cities of the first class. There must be free delivery of messages in towns, but a fee may be charged outside of town. Messenger fees may be charged by telephone companies beginning at 10c for the first 500 feet from the office followed by a gradually increasing scale. The Jim Crow provision was amended to require separate waiting rooms and phone booths in all cities of the first class, but upon showing the corporation may exempt any of the towns.

Each member of the legislature was in receipt of a protest from the Stillwater Grand Army post against the passage of what the protest termed "The rebel pension bill." The measure in question is pending in the house and proposes for each Union and Confederate veteran not drawing a pension from some other source $10 per month. Because the wording of the documents several of the senate members made speeches in disapproval of its circulation, but as a matter of record the protest was given consideration in neither house.

House Appropriation Committee Expects to Report a Bill Soon.

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 27.—The house appropriation committee expects to report a bill for consideration the last of the week.

It is said the recommendations for one year, or until the next legislature, will amount to $2,000,000.

KNOWS HE CAN GET DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION AND MEANS TO HAVE IT.

Therefore Esteems Prize Within His Reach Too Valuable to Relinquish.

Washington Jan. 27.—Mr. Bryan knows that he can get the democratic nomination for the presidency. He is filled with the belief that, nominated, he will be elected. Therefore, he esteems the prize within his grasp as too valuable to be relinquished, either at the solicitation of his enemies or of those who though his friends doubt the expediency of again making him the party's standard bearer.

In these three sentences as epitomized the situation that has been made clear and unmistakable by the visit of Bryan to Washington. What will happen at Denver is now written in the chronology of things decreed.

I have not come to Washington to find out who is for me or who is against me. Mr. Bryan said to correspondents this morning.

I do not expect to inquire what the sentiment is among democrats in congress. No man has advised me that I ought not to run, therefore I have not discussed the advisability of withdrawing with any man.

Take the Opposite Task.

It seems, on the contrary, that some of those who a few days ago were declaring their purpose to advise Mr. Bryan to retire from the race have urged him to stand fast and have represented to him that all those who would have him retire are the enemies of the democratic party and of himself.

Two or three New York newspapers declared this morning under bold headlines that ex-Senator Jones getting courage from the recollection of their quondam intimacy, had yesterday advised Mr. Bryan to nominate some other man than himself at Denver and that Mr. Bryan had rejected his counsel with some asperity. Mr. Bryan's statement to the correspondent is a denial of that story.

The fact is that Senator Jones did call on Mr. Bryan yesterday with that sentiment in his heart and the words wherewith to voice it marshaled in his throat but that Mr. Bryan having been advised of his mission, expressed a few opinions which paralyzed the tongue of the former Senator from Arkansas. So far as is known of a certainty there is only one other democrat in congress who has had the temerity even to broach the subject to Mr. Bryan. The one who came this near emulating Ajax is representative Lassiter of Virginia.

I intimated to him that we ought to nominate a fresh candidate. Mr. Lassiter reported Mr. Bryan was not visibly impressed. Mr. Lassiter added:

Has Been Spared Withdrawal Talk.

So Mr. Bryan, it seems has heard none of the arguments which, a few days ago, were so resonant in democratic cloak rooms in favor of his retirement. The gentlemen who declared so valiantly that when Mr. Bryan came to town they would advise him that he ought to forego the nomination so certainly his seem to have concluded, now that Mr. Bryan is within hearing though declaring always that they were his friends, engaged only in an enterprise for the benefit of the party they have acted like conspirators who, when the crucial moment comes, are mindful only of the consequences of failure.

Take'em Off, Take'em Off.

Mr. Sam Torbett was in receipt of an important telegram today from our congressman, the Hon. Chas. D. Carter in which he urged that citizens, especially the Indians and business interests, become active through appeals by wire and letters to committee on Indian Affairs in promoting the removal of restriction legislation, for which we are in such crying need. In response to the telegram, a meeting of the 25000 Club will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

DECIDES IN FAVOR OF STATE.

District Court at McAlester Hears Argument as to Action Against Alleged Coal Trust.

McAlester, Ok., Jan. 27.—The case of the state against the McAlester Fuel Company and thirty-eight coal companies of this district, composing what is called the alleged trust, was fought out in the district court today on defendants' demurrer to the state's petition and decided in favor of the state.

The court held that the petition showed cause of action on its face and that it also showed jurisdiction of the defendants, these being the two points raised by the defense. Twelve of the companies defendant immediately filed their answers, and ten days were granted the other defendants in which to answer. The case will now be fought out on its merits in the state court the defendants having announced when their petition for removal to the federal court was denied by Judge Cole that they would take no further steps in that direction. It can not come up until the March term of court and there is little probability of its coming up then.

THIRD HALF MILLION.

School Land Board Requests State Treasurer to Draw Same.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 27.—The state school land board today requested the state treasurer to draw on the National government for the third $500,000 of the $5,000,000 loan fund. The board has already placed $1,000,000 of the fund in circulation in Oklahoma through the various banks.

If the school land trustees wish to retain the preference right to their holdings when the public lands are old by authority of the legislature it is rather certain that they will be required to first show themselves in good standing with the school land department. It was in effect today that a section of the law would undoubtedly make this a requirement. It will mean that many of the teachers which have contracts with the state will be forced to comply with their terms and settle their indebtedness before a preference right to the land could be established.

SCHOOL LANDS TRANSFERRED.

Work of Checking Over Territorial Department is Completed—Yield Is Over $2,000,000.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 27.—The work of checking over the Territorial School Land Department to the State Land Commissioners was not fully completed until Saturday night, when L. D. Marr, secretary to the Public Land Commissioners of the State, signed the final receipts to Fred L. Wenner, secretary of the Territorial Board for Leasing School Lands for all of the property, notes and funds, although the formal transfer of the department from Secretary Wenner to Secretary Marr was really made Jan. 1. The receipts received by Secretary Wenner make a bound volume of about 800 legal size typewritten pages embracing in addition almost a car load of the books, records, files and furniture, and the following cash on hand deposited in banks to the various funds, as follows: Common school fund, $213,331.32; college fund, $31,719.18; public building fund, $31,433.59; common school indemnity fund, $33,160.95; Greer County Sec. 13 fund, $5,497.22; Greer County Sec. 33 fund, $5,331.14; special university fund, $2,663.81; special normal school fund, $4,019.30; special A & M College fund, $2,800.94; special University preparatory fund, $2,631.35; special C A and

REMOVAL OF RESTRICTIONS.

Bill Pertaining to Lands of Members of Five Tribes Soon to Be Presented.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The bill which will reflect the views of all members of the delegation as to what ought to be done for all Indians by the restrictions on the lands of members of the Five Tribes in Oklahoma will be introduced one day this week according to present indications.

It will probably be offered by Senator Clapp of Minnesota, chairman of the Committee on Indian Affairs. The outlines of its provisions have been agreed to not only by the members of the Oklahoma delegation but by Secretary Garfield. They have heretofore been stated in The News. The restrictions on all lands of the half Indian blood are removed, also, but not full-blood Indians the restrictions are removed, while as to the full-blood none of the restrictions are removed, though in individual cases they may be by the secretary of the interior.

Senator Owen said today that while he is not entirely satisfied with the bill he will support it because it is the best that can be got at this time. It is a long step in the right direction, Senator Owen said, and will afford great relief to our state. Senator Owen thinks the bill is certain to pass.

House to Vote on Probi Bill.

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 27.—The house will vote on the prohibition bill probably tomorrow, positively not later than Wednesday. Said George Whitehurst, chairman of the democratic caucus tonight. He claims to have over 80 votes promised. Seventy-three is necessary to adopt the measure. A caucus was held late this afternoon. The administration forces tonight are more confident than at any time since the amended senate bill was brought up. The engrossed copy of the bill has been prepared.

A Great City is a Great Solitude.

But little do men perceive what solitude is and how far it extendeth for a crowd is not company and faces are but a gallery of pictures and talk but a tinkling cymbal where there is no love. The Latin adage meeteth it a little magna civitas magna solitudo because in a great town friends are scattered so that there is not that fellowship for the most part which is in less neighborhoods, but we may go further and affirm most truly that it is a more and miserable solitude to want true friends without which the world is but a wilderness, and even in this sense also of solitude whoever in the frame of his nature and affections is unfit for friendship he taketh it of the beast and not from humanity.—From Bacon's Essay on Seeing Wise.

A Hopping Match.

A match 20 hops for ten guineas, took place at Loughborough Leicestershire, between James Shipley of Nottingham and a person named Moore, of Leicester. It was very closely contested so much so that bets of four to one were laid and taken on each side. The match however, was won by Shipley. On measuring the distance it appeared that Shipley had hopped 75 yards nine or ten inches and Moore something more than 75 yards. The latter was to have run against Shipley on the same day, 140 yards for 10 guineas but declined and in consequence forfeited his deposit.—From an English Sporting Magazine of 1807.

Stanley's Cat.

It is a good story of Henry M Stanley after his return from Africa when writing his "Dark Continent." He used to spread his reference maps on the floor of his room and one day after searching for a map which he much needed, he spoke to his assistant, who found it near the fireplace with Stanley's cat on it asleep. He started to turn the cat off, when Stanley said "Never mind—don't disturb the cat. I'll get along without the map until the cat wakes up." The cat slumbered on, and not until she rose did the famous explorer reach for his map.

LAST DAYS OF GREAT POET.

Bliss Perry Writes of the Passing of Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

On the day when he last entered the Atlantic office in January, Mr Aldrich seemed for the first time to have grown old. One of his friends spoke of it as he went out. Up in that morning the weight of 70 years had scarcely seemed to touch the erect jaunty figure. The lines that time had written around his clear blue eyes and firm mouth conveyed no hint of senility. His hair was scarcely gray. His voice slightly husky in its graver sweeter tones, retained a delicious youthful crispness as it curled and broke wave-like into flashing raillery. He had just completed his poem for the Longfellow centenary, his first verse after some years of silence, and when it was praised to his face—for who could help praising it?—he blushed with pleasure like a boy. Yet he had passed three-score and ten, and the shadow, invisible as yet and quite unheeded, was drawing very near.—Bliss Perry, in Atlantic.

FRICK NOT ALWAYS AMUSING.

Sometimes Hubby is Entirely Unable to See the Joke.

This is a simple trick, and every married woman can perform it, but it requires the assistance of a confederate with a big bag of shining tinware on his back. First get a husband with an extra pair of slightly worn trousers in his wardrobe then have the confederate—the man with the bag of tinware—come to the back door and knock gently. The wife must then peep out in a frightened way, and immediately the man with the tinware tells a tale that resembles a mining stock advertisement. The wife stops to think a few minutes. Suddenly she must rush to the wardrobe, but only after the man rattles the brilliant tinware to arouse her. The wife must walk back to the man again with the trousers. The man must take them and hand the wife a few tin pans. All the while the man with the tinware must smile. Finally at last the transaction is completed, and presto change! the husband's trousers have disappeared and in their place appears some tinware on the kitchen table. This trick is very novel and will amuse the husband greatly. The trick should not be performed while the husband is in bed unless he has an extra pair of trousers.—F. P. Pitzer in Judge.

"I GUESS" AND "CALCULATE."

Expressions Are Good English and Not at All American.

The accepted manner of defining Americans either male or female, in the London comic papers or in second-rate English novels is to lard their speech plentifully with "calculate" and "guess," and with "well" at the opening of each sentence. This mode of marking, or any other, is in itself totally unimportant, but linguistically it is not without interest, for while it is purely conventional as now used and has no relation to any American habits of the present day, whether good or bad, it is pleasant to note that the hard worked insular humorist need not have gone so far afield to find the words necessary for the identification of Americans. They really had but to turn to the "New Letters of Thomas Carlyle" (volume 1, page 178) and there read the following sentence: "He has brought you a Fox's book of Martyrs, which I calculate will go in the parcel to day, you will get right good reading out of it I guess."—Scribner.

Worshippers Carry Fire.

While sitting any people leaving the cathedral I entered to look around the interior of the time chamber. Inside I saw numbers of men carrying huge wicker baskets filled with triangular earthenware dishes in each of which still smoldered some glowing embers in a bed of white ash. These they carried into the cloisters and emptied solemnly into great metal bins. On reentering the building the secret stood revealed. Owing to the extreme cold each member of the congregation hires for a doppeltjer, or the sum of 2d, an earthen dish with a block of glowing peat under the little wooden perforated footstools with which each chair is provided.—Tit-Bits.

Penalty of Vanity.

Two tadpoles lived in a meadow pool. One tadpole was exceedingly vain and kicked around until he developed a pair of pale green legs and arose to the dignity of a frog. The other tadpole was sluggish. "Hurry up!" said the new frog. "Why you are the slowest thing in all the meadow." Without legs you will never be noticed. "And that is just why I am not raising them," replied the slow tadpole. "It doesn't always pay to be noticed." And now the slow tadpole still swims among the rushes while his vain brother has long since been served up on a crisp toast.

He Was an Exception.

The late Bishop James Newbury Fitzgerald in an address in St. Louis, once declared that sympathy, far more than eloquence or learning, made for success in the ministry. "Too many of us," he said, "say the worst, the most inappropriate things. Thus a young Baptist friend of mine, condoling with a housebreaker in a jail, droned: 'Ah, my friend, let us remember that we are here today and gone tomorrow.' 'You may be; I ain't,' the housebreaker answered shortly."

Fresh Food in the Country.

"The late Senator Pugh," said a Mobile man, "thought the charms of the country overrated. He preferred the city to the country. He used to tell how, one June day, he met a friend who had taken a house for the summer months outside New York somewhere. 'I suppose you revel in fresh eggs and vegetables out there,' said Senator Pugh. 'Yes,' said the New York man. 'Why we can get all those things at Serag's Four Corners almost as cheap as we did in town.'"

Care of a Canary.

When moving a canary from a small to a larger cage you should take the trouble to satisfy yourself that the bird is not frightened in its new habitation, for it sometimes happens that it is absolutely afraid to fly down from its comparatively lofty perch, and thus gets starved to death because it cannot reach its food. If you see your bird in this dilemma, try and coax it down, and if it will not come, take it out of its cage and hold it in the palm of your hand.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain special liver disorder—nothing else. It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of this now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought these troubles and gave to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative, without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, head-ache and nervous prostration, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and you will soon find what it can and will do. We sell and personally recommend.

BROKE IN JAIL.

Negro Arrested Himself and Put "Prisoner" in Calaboose.

It has often occurred in the past that people have broken out of prison, but first time in the world's history it is thought it has occurred that a man "broke in jail."

This morning a white man who was imprisoned for drunkenness awoke to find himself within the walls of the "Hotel de Couch." This did not please him of course but before he had his eyes well open from a night's slumber in this ever unpopular resort, he discovered a companion. It was George Washington, colored. The white guest did not object to bunking with George Washington, or even with a worthy name sake of the Father of our Country, but he had a just and great roar coming for being associated in any such manner with George Washington, colored.

When Marshal Couch reached his hotel this morning and opened the door of the white "waiting room" he had an argument on his hands. Dick was surprised, for he had not put the negro in prison. "Explain this," demanded the landlord of Hotel de Couch. Half scared to death, the young son of Ham, just 17, muttered, "I wuz gwine ter tell you boss, I wuz broke, cold and sleepy, and I jest thought I could get a good nap in here without paying fur it. I aint done nuthin'."

Dick and the enraged white prisoner had a big laugh. The hobo coon was taken before the mayor and was given twenty minutes to get out of Ada.

U. G. WINN HONORED.

One of the First Four Men in the United States Elected as Delegate to National Republican Convention.

The Hon. U. G. Winn of this city, recognized as the strongest factor within the republican party in this district and an Oklahoma republican leader, was elected one of the alternate delegates to the National Republican Convention to be held at Chicago, by the 4th Congressional District Delegate Convention which lately met at Colgate.

This selection of Judge Winn affords some distinction inasmuch the entire number of delegates and alternates the 4th District Convention was entitled to elect to the National Convention was four, and too, the interest of the leaders of the republican party of the nation was centered on this convention, it being the first republican convention called to select delegates in the United States.

The 4th District delegates were instructed to cast their vote in the big convention for Mr. Tait.

H. R. Snyder, Investor.

The News man has been benefitted through the acquaintance of Mr. H. R. Snyder of Petersburg, Indiana, who has been in Ada several days looking after the interests of previous investments and incidentally taking on some more. Mr. Snyder is a capitalist of wide travel and vast investment experience. Commenting on Ada's splendid prospects he stated that in his estimation nothing at present could be accomplished which would so materially assist in promoting Ada's welfare than the paving of the streets of the business portion of the city and the construction of substantial sidewalks throughout the town. Mr. Snyder, talking of the street paving proposition, remarked in substance, "I have had considerable experience in street paving and in a country of fine deposit, such as yours. There, the paving construction is not of brick, but of better and more durable material. Than the huge quantities of lime stone surrounding your city there is no better paving material. With your rock and gravel and cheap cement, your streets could be paved at an expense of probably less than $50 to the 25 foot front."

Mr. Snyder was requested to hand the News, for publication at an early date, an article of suggestions on street paving for Ada.

THE "SECRET OF SECRETS" In Store Advertising. One of the wisest of men wrote: "Suffer any person, to tell us his story, morning and evening, for but a twelve-month, AND HE WILL BECOME OUR MASTER!" In the above sentence we have, in a nutshell, the INNERMOST SECRET OF SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISING—frequency, and persistence, and unvarying continuity in the telling of the story of store or enterprise. There are many other things to be said of successful advertising, but in the above quotation is found the real philosophy, the real secret—THE HEART OF THE WHOLE MATTER!

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

U. G. WINN HONORED.

One of the First Four Men in the United States Elected as Delegate to National Republican Convention.

The Hon U. G. Winn of this city, recognized as the strongest factor within the republican party in this district and an Oklahoma republican leader, was elected one of the alternate delegates to the National Republican Convention to be held at Chicago, by the 14th Congressional District Delegate Convention which lately met at Colgate.

This selection of Judge Winn affords some distinction inasmuch the entire number of delegates and alternates the 14th District Convention was entitled to elect to the National Convention was four and two, the interest of the leaders of the republican party of the nation was centered on this convention, it being the first republican convention called to select delegates in the United States.

The 4th District delegates were instructed to cast their vote in the big convention for Mr. Tait.

H. R. Snyder, Investor.

The News man has been benefitted through the acquaintance of Mr. H. R. Snyder of Petersburg, Indiana, who has been in Ada several days looking after the interests of previous investments and incidentally taking on some more. Mr. Snyder is a capitalist of wide travel and vast investment experience. Commenting on Ada's splendid prospects he stated that in his estimation nothing at present could be accomplished which would so materially assist in promoting Ada's welfare than the paving of the streets of the business portion of the city and the construction of substantial sidewalks throughout the town. Mr. Snyder, talking of the street paving proposition, remarked in substance, "I have had considerable experience in street paving and in a country of lime deposits, such as yours. There, the paving construction is not of brick, but of better and more durable material. Than the huge quantities of lime stone surrounding your city there is no better paving material. With your rock and gravel and cheap cement, your streets could be paved at an expense of probably less than $50 to the 25 foot front."

Mr. Snyder was requested to hand the News, for publication at an early date, an article of suggestions on street paving for Ada.

THE "SECRET OF SECRETS" In Store Advertising.
One of the wisest of men wrote:
"Suffer any person to tell us his story, morning and evening, for but a twelve-month, AND HE WILL BECOME OUR MASTER!"
In the above sentence we have, in a nutshell, the INNERMOST SECRET OF SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISING—frequency, and persistence, and unvarying continuity in the telling of the story of store or enterprise. There are many other things to be said of successful advertising, but in the above quotation is found the real philosophy, the real secret—
THE HEART OF THE WHOLE MATTER!

Good Reading.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

CUPID'S FAVORITE AUTOMOBILE

Chicago.—Are you going to elope? If you are, just hire the Gasoline Elopier, and you will live happily ever afterward. The Gasoline Elopier—it is called the "Love Boat" by some—is the name given by the people of Motorville to the 45-horsepower touring car that plies between Single Blessedness and the land of Better or Worse. Motorville is out Michigan avenue way, where the homes of early Chicago have been transformed into garages and shops and where the streets and alleys have been polished with oil and rubbed down by a million wheels. Out there the honk-honk is the reveille and the taps.

The Gasoline Elopier has carried more happy twains into the land of Better or Worse than any other automobile in Motorville, where all the automobiles come from. It has traveled with the wind over boulevards and country roads, across the state line to the knot-tying place in Indiana in the dead of night like a specter set on wheels; it has worn a path to justice shops at rural crossroads, to little white churches that speak the countryside; it has borne bachelors to church and brought them back benedicted, and it has fled away with girls in brown and men in gray and brought them back to the parental roof in time for the ice cream and cake and congratulations. It has put a five dollars an hour price on romance, and it has shattered every record set down on the books of Cupid for making two hearts beat as one.

Telegram Tells of Safety.

Every day in the week the Gasoline Elopier makes the round trip between Motorville and one of the stations on the route to bliss. Every once in awhile it goes to the end of the line down in Indiana or over in Michigan, and its safe arrival is always chronicled by a telegram to mother. Not a day passes that it does not figure in some sort of a romance, budding or in full bloom, but it's the record-breaking trips it has made to the end of the line that has made the Gasoline Elopier famous.

The Gasoline Elopier used to be red—until it set down the new record in Cupid's book. Now it's white, as white as the ribbons that are stretched along the aisles when the organ begins to play, as white as the candles on the altar, as white as the icing on the cake. If there is anything else out in Motorville it is appropriateness, and that's why the Gasoline Elopier was painted white not long ago.

Dangling behind the two rear wheels of this 45-horsepower car of Cupid is a sign bearing the number 4665. No. 4665 is the license number of the Gasoline Elopier, and the numerals are painted in white letters on the front of the car and they are painted on the glass of the lamps, too, so that whenever you see No. 4665 swinging along the boulevards just look inside and you will see more cooling and billing than you ever read about in a dime novel—unless the shades are drawn or a 40-mile-an-hour gale makes the numbers look like a streak of paint.

Suspect Happy-Looking Man.

Every man who wears the kind of a smile that won't come off, new shoes, and a gray suit, who wants to rent an automobile in Motorville is at once regarded with suspicion and sent over to the garage of the Gasoline Elopier. If the man with the everlasting smile, the new shoes, and the gray suit is accompanied by a feminine figure done in soft browns, the Gasoline Elopier doesn't wait to be rubbed down. It just wings out from its stall, and it doesn't come back again until it is able to wear a broad smile. The Gasoline Elopier obeys the same code that guided the Spartan warrior who was instructed to come back either with his shield or upon it, and so when No. 4665 is on the job it doesn't ring up the time clock until the world's supply of hearts has been reduced by the merger of two into one.

Some say that Dan Cupid himself is the carefully reckless driver of No. 4665. The driver wears Dan for a front name, anyhow, and perhaps his last name is the Swedish for Cupid. At any rate Dan knows how to drive, and drive fast. He is not allowed to answer any questions, either, and that helps along the business of 4665. Dan is always in a hurry. He goes over the boulevards and the Gluecoo bumps like a summery breeze, blowing up the dust, making puddles look like rain and telegraph poles like the bars on the county jail, and fanning the cheeks of sparrow cops.

Coppers Know When Dan Is Out.

Dan never gets pinched. Every copper from Motorville north to Waukegan, south to the Indiana state line, and west to the nearest crossroads justice shop knows that when No. 4665 rips off the miles like a wire-less message it's "on the job," and not a hand is raised. Dan doesn't mind speeding—he's married himself and he says it's all for the cause. He says he keeps his engine in pace with the heart beats inside the limousine, and that means broken speed laws every mile from post to wire.

Most of the eloping couples carried to their goal in No. 4665 live happily ever afterwards, but of course there are some exceptions to the rule. Even before 4665 left the factory down in Buffalo where it was built it fastened its first two scalps to its belt. It was a bright spring day with all the settings found in the love songs of the poets when Genevieve Taylor of Buffalo, together with her father, visited the factory where the Gasoline Elopier was being put together. Papa Taylor wanted to buy a car in which he was to make a tour of the west with Genevieve and her mother.

The finishing touches were being put on No. 4665 when Mr. Taylor and his daughter reached the testing room of the great factory—the room to which cars are taken to be tested. While they were still in the room No. 4665 was brought in. It was ready for the test before being painted and shipped to Chicago.

Love Came on During High Speed.

Charles Gibbons, the daredevil tester of the factory, was assigned to make the first run on the chassis. Miss Taylor watched the preparations with great interest. Finally she asked why she couldn't make the ride with Gibbons. Her father, after some hesitation and many assurances both from the manager of the factory and the daring Gibbons, gave his consent.

ure beside her and, somehow, she felt absolute confidence in the steady nerve of this "strong master of the wheel."

They had traveled about ten miles, and their speed was approaching 50 miles an hour when, suddenly, on a nearby cross street, another car was seen to be wildly approaching at a furious rate of speed. A fatal crash seemed inevitable. She clutched at Gibbons' shoulders and hid her face behind him. The suspense was terrible; but young Gibbons, with rare presence of mind, judged the distance and speed accurately, opened the throttle to its widest point, and his car shot ahead, allowing the other car to narrowly miss his rear fender.

Ended in Car's First Marriage.

Then Gibbons gradually brought his machine to a stop, and for the first time during the ride glanced at Miss Taylor. Her face was pallid, but it was filled with silent gratitude. Before they had gone half the distance back to the factory Miss Taylor had learned that Gibbons was her brother's chum at college. After the next ride, which was taken a few days later, Gibbons was compelled to undergo the ordeal of presenting himself to Taylor as his son-in-law.

That was the beginning of the remarkable record of No. 4665. It was the fate of chassis No. 980 to be shipped to Chicago and there sold by the agent to D. O. Scott, a young mining engineer and owner, who had come up from his Mexican mines to spend the summer and incidentally some of his gold in the states. Not many years before Mr. Scott had been a world's champion bicycle rider, and he now found great pleasure in this high-speed automobile.

After he had used his car about a month, he received a message from his mines stating that he was badly needed there on account of recent troubles with the Indians. Scott knew that he must leave immediately. But during his short month in Chicago he had met his affinity. Car No. 4665 took the twain out Hammond way one night, and they came back bride and groom.

Love Boat Begins Knot-Tying Career.

After Scott sold 4665 it became known as the Gasoline Elopier and was held in reserve in Motorville for men in gray and girls in soft browns.

Although it was one of the elopements which failed to end happily, No. 4665 carried George Van Sands and Grace Cochrane on their wild ride to the knot-tying place.

Only a few days after the dash of 4665 to Milwaukee with Van Sands

home of his favorite preacher. The owner of 4665 was cast in the role of best man. A run was made to the clergyman's house, but to the chagrin of the couple the minister was not at home and would not be back for half an hour. A spin over the boulevards was taken, and when the wedding party rumbled up to the curb in front of the clergyman's house it was found they would not have time to go in. So the clergyman was called out to the machine and the knot was tied from the curb.

Makes Even Prize Fighter Wozy.

During the summers of 1906 and 1907 the "love boat" figured in dozens of elopements. Joseph Howard, the composer of tuneful ditties which have made several musical comedies successful, was the principal in one of these. Immediately after Mr. Howard was granted a divorce from his former wife, Ida Emerson Howard, he rushed from the courtroom to an automobile which stood waiting for him, in which was Miss Mabel Harrison of "Capt Careless" fame. A breathless trip to Hammond, Ind., was made in No. 4665.

After this elopement there successively followed a score of weddings and elopements in which No. 4665 figured, including the elopement of a prominent North side manufacturer to Hammond; a well known young woman of Woodlawn avenue, and also a goodly number of weddings without the sensation of an elopement. Among these more quiet weddings in which the "love boat" was used is that of Herman Landfield, better known as Kid Herman in pugilistic circles. On this occasion No. 4665 took Mr. and Mrs. Landfield on their honeymoon to New Orleans.

PROPER PLACE FOR HUSBY.

One Woman Had Right Idea of Dealing with Inebriated Spouse.

"There is as much difference in women," said an old city hall hackman, "as there is in horses—which is saying a great deal."

"The other night I loaded into my cab two men who were altogether the worse for the hot stimulants which they had been pouring down their throats. I had orders from their friends to see them safely delivered at home, and not to leave them until they had been receipted for by somebody who might be supposed to be in legal possession."

"I delivered the first one safely in the parlor of his home, and as I shut the door and walked away I heard the unhappy lamentations and up-

and his promised bride a large party of Evanstonians went on a camping expedition to Momence, Ill. Among these were Miss Vera Grace Moore and Mr. Robert P. Sheppard. This engaged couple were missed from camp one whole evening and a search was made for them. They had slipped away from camp and had walked to the railroad station, where, while waiting for a train to Chicago, Mr. Sheppard telephoned a Chicago garage to meet the train at the La Salle street station. The "love boat" was sent, and again carefully served to convey an eloping couple to the parsonage. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard returned to the station, and the "love boat" had cut another notch in its rapidly growing record.

Married in Gasoline Elopier.

Various Chicago couples have been married on railroad trains, on boats, on housetops, on roller skates and on ice skates, in the water, and as many more unusual places; but not long ago Dr. G. R. Churchill, a Chicago dentist, was married to Miss Lottie Andrews while riding in an automobile, and has attained the distinction of having been the originator of this latest unique place of marriage.

It happened a year or so ago on a crisp day in October. Dr. Churchill had planned a quiet marriage at the bridings of his wife, commingled with the incoherent and somewhat vague explanations of the husband, to the effect that he had been only around the corner to see a man.

"In the other case when the door was opened and I escorted the gentleman into the library, by holding him tightly by the shoulder, his wife, who sat reading by the center table, simply looked up and calmly said, 'Please deposit him in the bathtub where he can drip.'—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Height of Ludicrousness.

"Yes," said Mrs. Oatcake, "John was such a queer boy. He had a mania for putting silly names together."

"Indeed!" replied the visitor. "And is he still working on the farm?"

"Well, I should say not! John was called to New York at a big salary to select the names of them that big shows that come out of that town."—Chicago Daily News.

Alumnae Widely Scattered.

According to recent statistics, there are now in Wellesley college just 100 teachers, 15 professors, 28 associate professors, 50 instructors and seven assistants. There are a number of Wellesley graduates in Manila, who delight to meet one another, one of them being Miss Phoebe Ellison, who teaches domestic science in the American school.

Something New in Line of Amusement

The invitations were ornamented with a flock of wild geese flying madly over the page and the words were: "Come to Beverly Farm on Tuesday at half after eight."

Every one receiving this unique message was filled with curiosity as to what the proceedings would be. When all had arrived the hostess had a slip of paper for each one on which was written the first direction; of course each one was different.

One said, "Go look under the umbrella jar." There was a slip under it that said: "To walk through the hall into the music room and look at the pedals of the piano." To them was attached the message: "In the Indian basket at the top of the stairs you will find your reward." There was a souvenir or favor for each one. In fact, there were duplicates, and when a man and a woman found the same they were partners for supper. It may easily be seen how jolly this affair may be if the hostess uses plenty of ingenuity in the planning of the "chases." The guests entering into it will have loads of fun, as they encounter each other following out the different instructions. This scheme is practical in pairing couples for cards or in any game where partners are necessary.

Plan for a Rainbow Tea.

This was a common every-day church supper, glorified by the seven colors of the rainbow, and it certainly was a most attractive affair. An unusually large crowd came to this "Rainbow Tea," drawn by the alluring advertisements, for every one wondered "what it was to be."

There were seven tables, beginning with red, then orange, yellow, indigo, green, violet and blue. The waiters for each table were dressed accordingly, and there was an arrangement of draperies bringing in all the colors, transforming the room into a bower of beauty. One cannot realize how effective the combination is until tried. Below is the menu for each table.

MADAME MERRI.

Finishing Tablecloths.

The French hem is the most attractive way to finish tablecloths and napkins.

It is made by turning an ordinary hem—that is, turn once and over again. Now turn it back upon itself so that the right side of the material lie upon the right side of the material and top sew the edge.

Hair Is Now Dressed in Many New Ways

The hair is now being dressed with less width from side to side and more height in the center, a hint particularly valuable to the moon-faced girl, who ought not to increase the width of her face by puffing her hair out unduly above her ears.

Fascinatingly pretty as the curl is, it is by no means surprising that it should maintain its supremacy, though it need not be the sole motif of a chevelure design. Puffs and the plait are mingled in elegant confusion, and the wave that is required is the heavy Marcel undule.

Girls of about 16 who have not yet reached the age of putting their hair up are wearing it parted and caught together in festoons or curtains upon the brow, to use an old-fashioned expression in connection with this form of dressing.

In some cases the hair is plaited at the back and looped in the nape of the neck beneath a huge ribbon bow, black for the blonde girl, and chocolate for the nut-brown maid. Otherwise the front hair is drawn to the back beneath the restraining influence of a comb and the tresses are allowed to flow carelessly over the shoulders.

Individual fancy is able to run riot this winter over any number of possible decorations for the hair. There are beautiful combs being sold at all prices, from those of dark or blonde tortoiseshell powdered, latticed and festooned with diamonds to the Spanish ones that are so fashionable damascened in gold upon Toledo steel.

At night wreaths of skeleton leaves in gold, silver or steel make a very pretty decoration, and the large single gold or silver rose with foliage to match is justifiably patronized on account of its beauty and its becoming attributes to women of all ages.

The softly waving plume of cut-orchid and marabout is as popular as ever for evening wear, and just lately there has arisen a tendency for wearing long brush or comet aigrettes pointing downwards from behind the ear to the crown of the shoulder, instead of upwards, as the former manner was.

Raspberry and old rose shades are apparently evening favorites.

Striped materials are being more extensively worn this season.

Stocks of chiffon, laid in loose folds, to be worn with lace applique blouses, are extremely smart.

Dark, rich green is a favorite color this season, and it is always handsome.

Automobile coats in unplucked sealskin are among the latest beautiful things for the fair motorist.

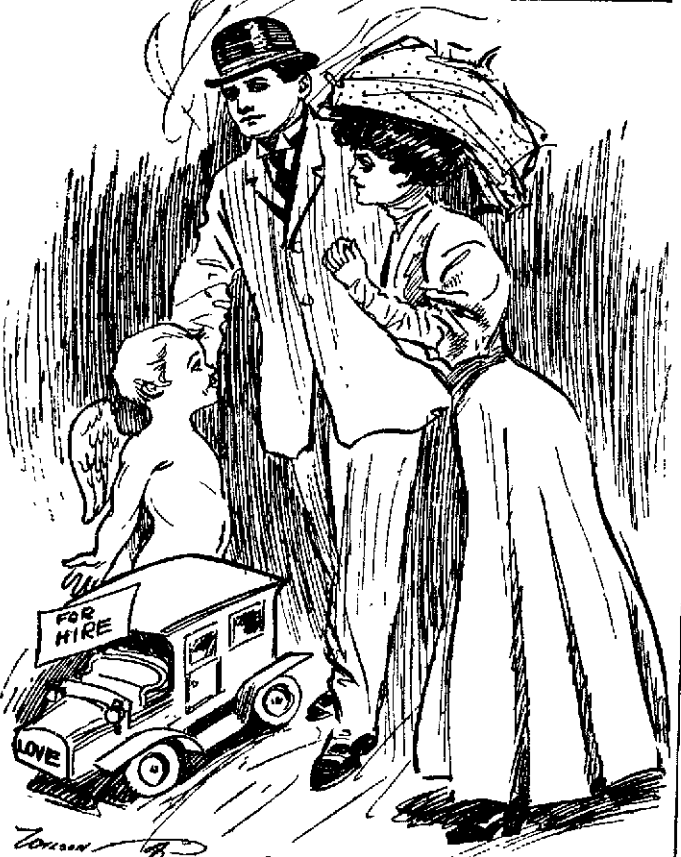

Bridge whist sets bound in morocco make very attractive Christmas gifts.

A four-in-hand shield for linen collars comes in colored silk, bordered with white silk and trimmed with French knots.

A woman just back from London says that hats were never more top-heavy and never more expensive than just now.

From Paris are gray linen collars for half-mourning wear. They are hand-embroidered in French knots and other effects in black.

The Gasoline Elop-er obeys the same code that guided the Spartan warrior who was instructed to come back either with his shield or upon it, and so when No. 4665 is on the job it doesn't ring up the time clock until the world's supply of hearts has been reduced by the merger of two into one.

Some say that Dan Cupid himself is the carefully reckless driver of No. 4665. The driver wears Dan for a front name, anyhow, and perhaps his last name is the Swedish for Cupid. At any rate Dan knows how to drive, and drive fast. He is not allowed to answer any questions, either, and that helps along the business of 4665. Dan is always in a hurry. He goes over the boulevards and the Gluecoo bumps like a summery breeze, blowing up the dust, making puddles look like rain and telegraph poles like the bars on the county jail, and fanning the cheeks of sparrow cops.

Coppers Know When Dan is Out.

Dan never gets pinched. Every copper from Motorville north to Waukegan, south to the Indiana state line, and west to the nearest crossroads justice shop knows that when No. 4665 rips off the miles like a wireless message it's "on the job," and not a hand is raised. Dan doesn't mind speeding—he's married himself and he says it's all for the cause. He says he keeps his engine in pace with the heart beats inside the limousine, and that means broken speed laws every mile from post to wire.

Most of the eloping couples carried to their goal in No. 4665 live happily ever afterwards, but of course there are some exceptions to the rule. Even before 4665 left the factory down in Buffalo where it was built it fastened its first two scalps to its belt. It was a bright spring day with all the settings found in the love songs of the poets when Genevieve Taylor of Buffalo, together with her father, visited the factory where the Gasoline Elop-er was being put together. Papa Taylor wanted to buy a car in which he was to make a tour of the west with Genevieve and her mother.

The finishing touches were being put on No. 4665 when Mr. Taylor and his daughter reached the testing room of the great factory—the room to which cars are taken to be tested. While they were still in the room No. 4665 was brought in. It was ready for the test before being painted and shipped to Chicago.

Love Came on During High Speed.

Charles Gibbons, the daredevil tester of the factory, was assigned to make the first run on the chassis. Miss Taylor watched the preparations with great interest. Finally she asked why she couldn't make the ride with Gibbons. Her father, after some hesitation and many assurances both from the manager of the factory and the daring Gibbons, gave his consent.

The pair were soon speeding along the boulevards. The silent Gibbons sat rigidly grasping the steering wheel; his eyes were riveted straight ahead, and he seemed to notice nothing to right or left of him. He steadily increased the speed, until his responsive machine seemed fairly to fly over the paved roads. Miss Taylor knew that she had never before ridden at such a furious rate of speed. Her strained eyes instinctively turned from the road ahead to the stolid figure beside her and, somehow, she felt absolute confidence in the steady nerve of this "strong master of the wheel."

They had traveled about ten miles, and their speed was approaching 50 miles an hour when, suddenly, on a nearby cross street, another car was seen to be wildly approaching at a furious rate of speed. A fatal crash seemed inevitable. She clutched at Gibbons' shoulders and hid her face behind him. The suspense was terrible; but young Gibbons, with rare presence of mind, judged the distance and speed accurately, opened the throttle to its widest point, and his car shot ahead, allowing the other car to narrowly miss his rear fender.

Ended in Car's First Marriage.

Then Gibbons gradually brought his machine to a stop, and for the first time during the ride glanced at Miss Taylor. Her face was pallid, but it was filled with silent gratitude. Before they had gone half the distance back to the factory Miss Taylor had learned that Gibbons was her brother's chum at college. After the next ride, which was taken a few days later, Gibbons was compelled to undergo the ordeal of presenting himself to Taylor as his son-in-law.

That was the beginning of the remarkable record of No. 4665.

It was the fate of chassis No. 980 to be shipped to Chicago and there sold by the agent to D. O. Scott, a young mining engineer and owner, who had come up from his Mexican mines to spend the summer and incidentally some of his gold in the states. Not many years before Mr. Scott had been a world's champion bicycle rider, and he now found great pleasure in this high-speed automobile.

After he had used his car about a month, he received a message from his mines stating that he was badly needed there on account of recent troubles with the Indians. Scott knew that he must leave immediately. But during his short month in Chicago he had met his affinity. Car No. 4665 took the twain out Hammond way one night, and they came back bride and groom.

Love Boat Begins Knot-Tying Career.

After Scott sold 4665 it became known as the Gasoline Elop-er and was held in reserve in Motorville for men in gray and girls in soft browns.

Although it was one of the elopements which failed to end happily, No. 4665 carried George Van Sands and Grace Cochrane on their wild ride to the knot-tying place.

Only a few days after the dash of 4665 to Milwaukee with Van Sands

home of his favorite preacher. The owner of 4665 was cast in the role of best man. A run was made to the clergyman's house, but to the chagrin of the couple the minister was not at home and would not be back for half an hour. A spin over the boulevards was taken, and when the wedding party rumbled up to the curb in front of the clergyman's house it was found they would not have time to go in. So the clergyman was called out to the machine and the knot was tied from the curb.

Makes Even Prize Fighter Wozy.

During the summers of 1906 and 1907 the "love boat" figured in dozens of elopements. Joseph Howard, the composer of tuneful ditties which have made several musical comedies successful, was the principal in one of these. Immediately after Mr. Howard was granted a divorce from his former wife, Ida Emerson Howard, he rushed from the courtroom to an automobile which stood waiting for him, in which was Miss Mabel Harrison of "Capt. Careless" fame. A breathless trip to Hammond, Ind., was made in No. 4665.

After this elopement, there successively followed a score of weddings and elopements in which No. 4665 figured, including the elopement of a prominent North side manufacturer to Hammond; a well known young woman of Woodlawn avenue, and also a goodly number of weddings without the sensation of an elopement. Among these more quiet weddings in which the "love boat" was used is that of Herman Landfield, better known as Kid Herman in pugilistic circles. On this occasion No. 4665 took Mr. and Mrs. Landfield on their honeymoon to New Orleans.

PROPER PLACE FOR HUSBY.

One Woman Had Right Idea of Dealing with Inebriated Spouse.

"There is as much difference in women," said an old city hall hackman, "as there is in horses—which is saying a great deal."

"The other night I loaded into my cab two men who were altogether the worse for the hot stimulants which they had been pouring down their throats. I had orders from their friends to see them safely delivered at home, and not to leave them until they had been receipted for by somebody who might be supposed to be in legal possession."

"I delivered the first one safely in the parlor of his home, and as I shut the door and walked away I heard the unhappy lamentations and up-

and his promised bride a large party of Evanstonians went on a camping expedition to Momence, Ill. Among these were Miss Vera Grace Moore and Mr. Robert P. Sheppard. This engaged couple were missed from camp one whole evening and a search was made for them. They had slipped away from camp and had walked to the railroad station, where, while waiting for a train to Chicago, Mr. Sheppard telephoned a Chicago garage to meet the train at the La Salle street station. The "love boat" was sent, and again carefully served to convey an eloping couple to the parsonage. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard returned to the station, and the "love boat" had cut another notch in its rapidly growing record.

Married in Gasoline Elop-er.

Various Chicago couples have been married on railroad trains, on boats, on houseboats, on roller skates and on ice skates, in the water, and as many more unusual places; but not long ago Dr. G. R. Churchill, a Chicago dentist, was married to Miss Lottie Andrews while riding in an automobile, and has attained the distinction of having been the originator of this latest unique place of marriage.

It happened a year or so ago on a crisp day in October. Dr. Churchill had planned a quiet marriage at the braiding of his wife, commingled with the incoherent and somewhat vague explanations of the husband, to the effect that he had been only around the corner to see a man.

"In the other case when the door was opened and I escorted the gentleman into the library, by holding him tightly by the shoulder, his wife, who sat reading by the center table, simply looked up and calmly said, 'Please deposit him in the bathtub where he can drip.'—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Height of Ludicrousness. "Yes," said Mrs. Oatcake, "John was such a queer boy. He had a mania for putting silly names together."

"Indeed!" replied the visitor. "And is he still working on the farm?"

"Well, I should say not! John was called to New York at a big salary to select the names of them that big shows that come out of that town."—Chicago Daily News.

Alumnae Widely Scattered.

According to recent statistics, there are now in Wellesley college just 100 teachers, 15 professors, 28 associate professors, 50 instructors and seven assistants. There are a number of Wellesley graduates in Manila, who delight to meet one another, one of them being Miss Phoebe Ellison, who teaches domestic science in the American school.

Something New in Line of Amusement

The invitations were ornamented with a flock of wild geese flying madly over the page and the words were: "Come to Beverly Farm on Tuesday at half after eight."

Every one receiving this unique message was filled with curiosity as to what the proceedings would be. When all had arrived the hostess had a slip of paper for each one on which was written the first direction; of course each one was different.

One said, "Go look under the umbrella jar." There was a slip under it that said: "To walk through the hall into the music room and look at the pedals of the piano." To them was attached the message: "In the Indian basket at the top of the stairs you will find your reward." There was a souvenir or favor for each one. In fact, there were duplicates, and when a man and a woman found the same they were partners for supper. It may easily be seen how jolly this affair may be if the hostess uses plenty of ingenuity in the planning of the "chases." The guests entering into it will have loads of fun, as they encounter each other following out the different instructions. This scheme is practical in pairing couples for cards or in any game where partners are necessary.

Plan for a Rainbow Tea.

This was a common every-day church supper, glorified by the seven colors of the rainbow, and it certainly was a most attractive affair. An unusually large crowd came to this "Rainbow Tea," drawn by the alluring advertisements, for every one wondered "what it was to be."

There were seven tables, beginning with red, then orange, yellow, indigo, green, violet and blue. The waiters for each table were dressed accordingly, and there was an arrangement of draperies bringing in all the colors, transforming the room into a bower of beauty. One cannot realize how effective the combination is until tried. Below is the menu for each table.

RED TABLE
Ham.	Tongue
Sausage.	Dried Beef.
Cranberries.	Cherries.

Finishing Tablecloths.

The French hem is the most attractive way to finish tablecloths and napkins.

It is made by turning an ordinary hem—that is, turn once and over again. Now turn it back upon itself so that the right side of the hem will lie upon the right side of the material and top sew the edge.

Hair Is Now Dressed in Many New Ways

The hair is now being dressed with less width from side to side and more height in the center, a hint particularly valuable to the moon-faced girl, who ought not to increase the width of her face by puffing her hair out unduly above her ears.

Fascinatingly pretty as the curl is, it is by no means surprising that it should maintain its supremacy, though it need not be the sole motif of a chevelure design. Puffs and the plait are mingled in elegant confusion, and the wave that is required is the heavy Marcel undule.

Girls of about 16 who have not yet reached the age of putting their hair up are wearing it parted and caught together in festoons or curtains upon the brow, to use an old-fashioned expression in connection with this form of dressing.

In some cases the hair is plaited at the back and looped in the nape of the neck beneath a huge ribbon bow, black for the blonde girl, and chocolate for the nut-brown maid. Otherwise the front hair is drawn to the back beneath the restraining influence of a comb and the tresses are allowed to flow carelessly over the shoulders.

Individual fancy is able to run riot this winter over any number of possible decorations for the hair. There are beautiful combs being sold at all prices, from those of dark or blonde tortoiseshell powdered, latticed and festooned with diamonds to the Spanish ones that are so fashionable damascened in gold upon Toledo steel.

At night wreaths of skeleton leaves in gold, silver or steel make a very pretty decoration, and the large single gold or silver rose with foliage to match is justifiably patronized on account of its beauty and its becoming attributes to women of all ages.

The softly waving plume of cut ostrich and marabout is as popular as ever for evening wear, and just lately there has arisen a tendency for wearing long brush or comet aigrettes pointing downwards from behind the ear to the crown of the shoulder, instead of upwards, as the former manner was.

Raspberry and old rose shades are apparently evening favorites. Striped materials are being more extensively worn this season. Stocks of chiffon, laid in loose folds, to be worn with lace applique blouses, are extremely smart.

Dark, rich green is a favorite color this season, and it is always hand-some.

Automobile coats in unplucked seal skin are among the latest beautiful things for the fair motorist. Bridge whist sets bound in morocco make very attractive Christmas gifts.

A four-in-hand shield for linen collars comes in colored silk, bordered with white silk and trimmed with French knots.

A woman just back from London says that hats were never more top-heavy and never more expensive than just now.

From Paris are gray linen collars for half-mourning wear. They are hand-embroidered in French knots and other effects in black.
